Parenting seems to have become a set of skills to be followed along lines recommended by experts. Today's parenting strategies are not getting the return on the investment that many expected. Using the work of Dr. Gordon Neufeld, this session will put you in a position to: Generate the power to parent in the most difficult contexts, Find the vulnerability to show love, Recognize blind spots, and Leave with hope.

Susan will also be introducing twenty-four Neufeld Directed Studies Students who are developing community and school-based programs in Guelph and surrounding area. Dr. Neufeld will be in Guelph on May 19th to address our community. Early-bird tickets will be sold at this kick-off event.
